Insane in Ukraine: A True American Story of Conflict and Survival

Mr. Volpé (Bill) started his career as a US Government contractor at the age of 21. Also, he was the PMO Manager for the Ministry of Interior of Saudi Arabia.

His Amazon bestselling book, Insane in Ukraine: A True American Story of Conflict and Survival is the true story of Bill, formerly under SECRET Clearance with the USA, who falls in love with a Russian-born Ukrainian woman who was formerly with the Ministry of Interior of Ukraine and ends up in the middle of a battle in the current Ukrainian war that is responsible for the largest number of deaths in one day since the end of WW II.

On that day, more than 100 people were burned alive while people screamed "Let them burn!" This book consists of details related to the Ukrainian war and the Odesa, Ukraine massacre. It also includes his time in Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Bahrain, and Moldova, before finally arriving in South America. All of these events took place between 2013 and 2015.

SPEAKING TOPICS: Bill is eager to speak to your audience based on his expertise about the issues below, the pending episodic series being discussed, or anything else that your audience may be interested in.

In a situation like Ukraine, do you even know who to avoid and how do you know?

When you are in a foreign country where you don't even speak the language or know the politics and you are not being ushered around by some tour guide everything changes. Having been a resident of Ukraine, Mr. Volpé can easily talk to this point and actually has many times.

What did the war in Ukraine and travelling around the world teach you about violence?

America often debates the use of guns especially after mass shootings, but most have never seen real violence around the world and what desperate people will do. When people are hungry, homeless, and have nothing to lose everything changes. Even the military generally travels in groups/teams. They are not alone on unfamiliar streets and in those moments everything changes.

What was it like as an American to live with the daily threat of death?

In a high stress situation, you never know what a person will do even if that person is you. Situations often have many moving parts and influences and you never know what will happen next. You definitely do not know what your enemy, or even the country you are living in, will do next or is even willing to do next. It can be a very confusing time and something you will never forget, but there are many aspects to it. This is yet another area that Mr. Volpé is an expert in and he is happy to share his experience of the situation.
